

ELC Teaching Observation Form

Teacher Name: Shantu Mir

Level: Adult ELA Program

Observer Name: James Hartshorn

Date: Winter 2025

Instructions: As you observe the teacher you are mentoring, consider each of the areas below and rate the students based on the four-point scale. When you meet with the teacher to discuss the observation, use this form to give them feedback on their areas of strengths and areas where they could improve. Make a copy for the teacher and give this copy to the CORE supervisor.

Implementing the Pedagogical Principled Practices

1. Developing indicates that the teacher either does not implement the PPP or does so poorly. The teacher needs direct, explicit intervention to implement the practice more effectively.
2. Emerging indicates that the teacher often implements the practice or tries to implement it but may or may not do so effectively. It also means that, in your estimation, the teacher will improve with experience and intervention from other teachers and administrators.
3. Satisfactory indicates that the teacher generally implements the practice effectively and consistently. The teacher will improve with experience and little or no intervention from other teachers and administrators.
4. Proficient indicates that the teacher almost always implements the practice effectively. Proficiency in implementing a PPP also indicates that the teacher will continue to improve without help from other teachers and administrators.

Principled Pedagogical Practices	Overall Score for Category
Check each indicator present during this observation and based on your experiences mentoring this teacher.
Rely on course outcomes ☐ Relates class activities/material to course outcomes during class ☐ Teaches an objective clearly evident to student and observer	1 2 3 4
Plan lessons effectively ☐ Plans in advance as evidenced by a lesson plan for the observation ☐ Incorporates an appropriate number and variety of learning activities given learner demographics ☐ Provides scaffolding (appropriate guided, independent, & spaced practice) ☐ Includes contingency plan(s) on the lesson plan document ☐ Plans for ample pair and group communicative practice ☐ Demonstrates best practices in effective teaching (monitoring, modeling, pre/during/post activities, etc) ☐ Communicates class overview to students by writing or posting it on the board	1 2 3 4
Optimize class time ☐ Timely and clear start to class ☐ Carefully manages activities and transitions to maximize communicative language practice ☐ Implements pair and group communicative practice and discussions ☐ Connects activities to ensure needed level of mastery before moving on ☐ Monitors appropriate teacher/student talk time ☐ Maintains an engaging pace that allows for adequate practice ☐ Demonstrates effective decision making to implement best teaching practices	1 2 3 4

Cultivate a positive learning environment ☐ Fosters and demonstrates genuine concern for students ☐ Sets high but reasonable expectations ☐ Inspires students to do their best ☐ Creates a non-threatening learning environment that is cheerful, upbeat, and optimistic ☐ Sincerely praises students and regularly expresses confidence in their abilities	1 2 3 4
Evaluate learning effectively ☐ Skillfully uses needs assessment ☐ Employs formative assessment to make instructional decisions ☐ Regularly solicits qualitative input from students regarding materials and methods ☐ Makes appropriate adjustments to lesson planning, teaching materials, and methods ☐ Communicates rationale for adjustments to students	1 2 3 4
Provide meaningful and timely feedback ☐ Regularly provides feedback that is meaningful for the student ☐ Avoids overloading the students' cognitive ability to process and apply the feedback ☐ Provides students with abundant opportunities to practice and apply feedback	1 2 3 4
Exemplify professionalism ☐ Dresses and behaves professionally and appropriately ☐ Addresses students politely and respectfully ☐ Reacts to student behaviors (including interruption/disruption) in a kind and considerate manner	1 2 3 4

General observation notes and other comments:

1. I love your enthusiasm and your passion for teaching.
2. I can tell you have a great rapport with your students and that you care about them and their learning.
3. You have a great classroom presence—your voice feels the room and your movement and body language helps students to pay attention and focus on your lesson.
4. I appreciate your effort to speak at a speed and level that is appropriate for your learners.
5. I love your use of the screen and body language to facilitate meaning and understanding.
6. I appreciate how your students understand what you expect and are willing to choral words with your guidance.

I am seeing many great things happening here. I loved that you had your students asking and answering question early in the class period. Generally, I think many students and enjoying class and learning. However, I wonder if there might be a way to get them working in pairs (or small groups) more quickly, rather than spending so much time at the whole-class level. At the class level, it may be more difficult to get everyone to fully participate if the most active class members take the lead. It also may be difficult to determine if every student understands and can perform at the same level. One way to address this (at the whole-class level) is to call on more individuals rather than always have your questions be open-ended. While you eventually get to the pair level, I wonder if you can do that more quickly. These are just a few thoughts for consideration, but overall, your teaching is very impressive! You are an amazing teacher!

Score: 26/28 = 93

